
Adrien Malaisé

Research Interest

- Human-Robot Collaboration
- Whole-body dynamic analysis
- Measure of ergonomic indicators

Education

- 2016 - M.Sc in Cognitive Science at University of Lorraine - Nancy, France
- 2014 - M.Sc in Computer Science at University Pierre and Marie Curie - Paris, France

Publications

Towards collaboration between professional caregivers and robots – A preliminary study
Adrien Malaisé, Sophie Nertomb, François Charpillet, Serena Ivaldi
International Conference on Social Robotics – Workshop “Using social robots to improve the quality of life in the elderly”, Nov 2016, Kansas City, United States

One-shot Evaluation of the Control Interface of a Robotic Arm by Non-Experts
Sebastian Marichal, Adrien Malaisé, Valerio Modugno, Oriane Dermay, François Charpillet, Serena Ivaldi
International Conference on Social Robotics, Nov 2016, Kansas City, United States

First year Ph.D student
Inria Nancy - France
Larsen Team

Supervisors
Serena Ivaldi
Francis Colas

adrien.malaise@inria.fr